XP2025

Brugg, Switzerland  June 2 – 5

About XP Conference

- The XP conference series is the longest running conference on agile Software Development. It enjoys a broad participation, both from industry and academia, with typically more than two thirds of the participants coming from industry.
- XP2025 is the major conference in Europe on Agile and Lean Methodologies for Software Development in 2025, and we expect 200 - 300 participants.
- Come to the XP conference and:
 - Meet thought leaders and leading researchers
 - Engage with practitioners and coaches and excite them about your products and solutions
 - Demonstrate your solutions and successes
 - Learn about current and future trends in software development
 - Present yourself to over 300 participants from all over Europe, North and South America, and other countries

The XP is a non-profit conference.

All sponsorship fees are invested into creating the best possible experience for delegates and partners.

XP 2025 Theme

Adapt - Uncovering better ways to deliver valuable software products

Software has become part of the critical infrastructure of the entire economy and society – it has become ubiquitous, and its ubiquity will steadily grow.

In recent years, practitioners have adopted new tools and techniques for continuous and faster delivery and deployment. At the same time emerging trends are on their way to dramatically change the way we develop, operate, and evolve software in the future. We continuously need to adapt
